Produce Share Details

The produce share is provided for 22 consecutive weeks during the growing season. Members receive a variety of high quality, clean, certified organic produce. Our boxes contain an assortment of traditional garden favorites along with a few specialty items to give your taste buds an adventure! Quantity and variety of the boxes build and change with the season. A newsletter with recipes, news from the farm, photos, and the box contents is emailed prior to each delivery. CSA members receive a Member Handbook with detailed information about box pick-up for their site, the exact start date and more, to ensure preparedness for the first delivery. Two share sizes are available: Full Share feeds 3-5 people, Half Share feeds 1-2 people. Both are delivered on Wednesday's (June - November).

Member Responsibilities

Members of the Ridgeland Harvest CSA share in the bounty as well as risks of farming. Due to weather and/or other production factors, the quantity and quality of produce you receive may be more or less than expected, and planned. If you can not finish the season as a member, for whatever reason, you may reassign your share with another household, but we do not issue refunds or credits.

It is your responsibility to know when and where your share will be delivered, and to pick it up within your site's open hours on delivery day. If you are unable to pick up your box, you are responsible to make alternate arrangements a head of time – either have someone else pick up your box for you, ask the farm not to make a box for you, or ask the site coordinator to hold your box for you to pick up later. The farm will not issue credit or refunds for unclaimed or forgotten boxes.

Read the newsletters that accompany each delivery. Besides news from the farm, recipes, special offers, and farm event details, we communicate important announcements through them. Newsletters are emailed prior to delivery and are also available for download from our website: www.ridgelandharvest.com.

All correspondence and newsletters are sent via email. To ensure that you receive all email communications add csa@ridgelandharvest.com to your list of safe addresses in your SPAM filter.
